

*Do you want to be a steward
of a sustainable society?*

YES!

THEN JOIN US ON OUR JOURNEY IN 2025!

Let's show our leadership

During the first two days of our course, we will start on a personal level. Dr. Susan Goldsworthy OLY, Affiliate Professor at IMD, brings us to Chamonix to have a trip onto the mountains.

Change the game!

You are a guest at Nyenrode Business University in Breukelen (nearby Amsterdam). During a two-day course prof. dr. André Nijhof will be our host.

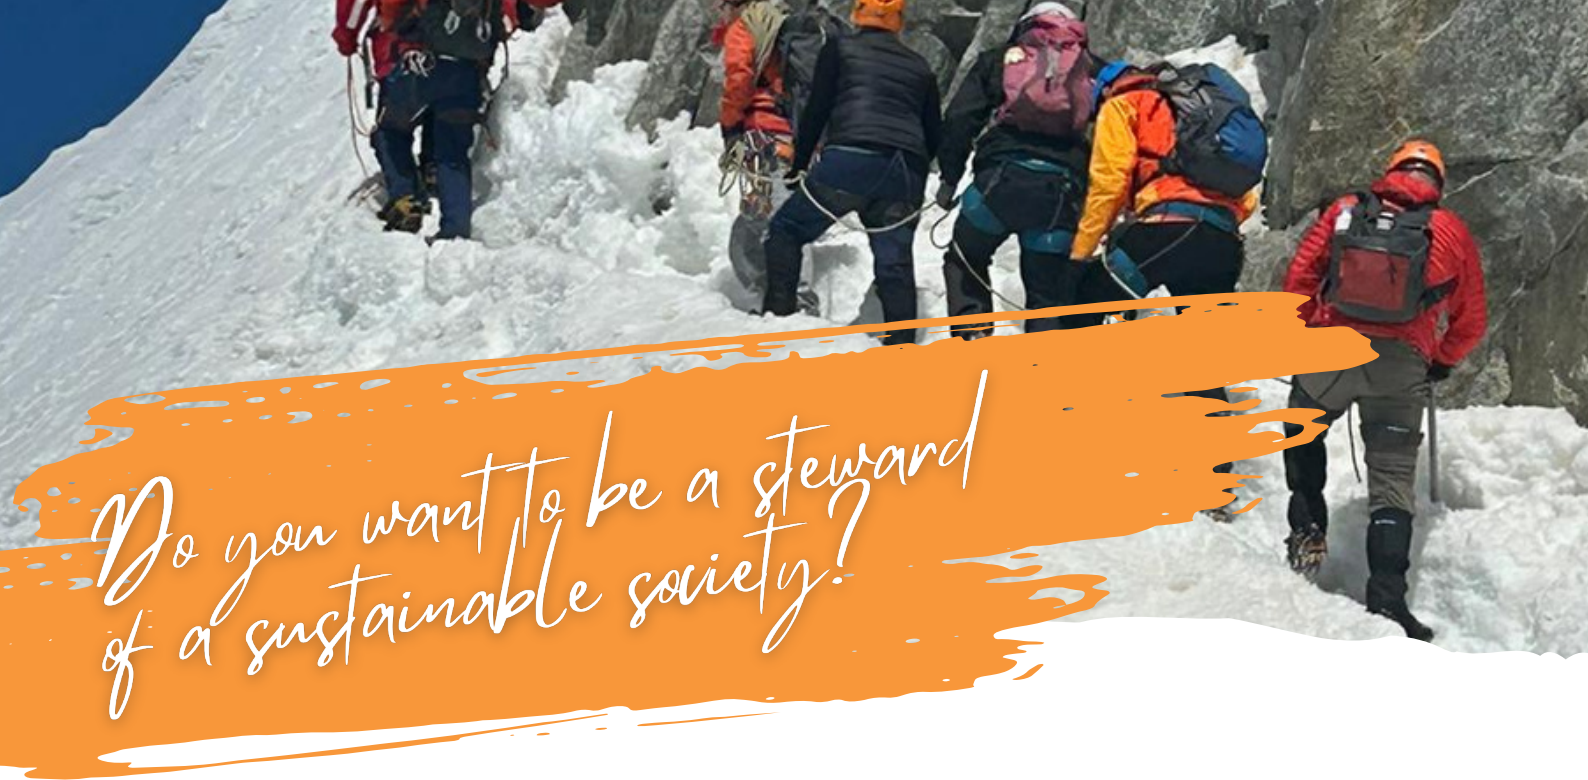

And tear down the walls

The principles of the economy are reinvented. We all studied economy, but is this the economy in which we can flourish? Or do we have to tear down the walls? Dr. Nicolas Chevrollier and dr. Tobias Froese will guide us to a reinventing process in Berlin.

*Do you want to be a steward
of a sustainable society?*

In 2024, we launched the first edition of the 'Stewards of a sustainable society' course. A course for leaders who want to make a difference in ensuring a transition of business models in the service of a better world.

We are now on the eve of the second edition, edition 2025. We would like to invite you to join us so that we can make a difference together.

We are convinced that you as an individual leader can contribute to the transition. A transition that requires you to reflect on yourself and the business model of your firm. During the program, we encourage you to think and act differently.

Highly systemic and deeply personal

To realize this transition, we must learn:

- New worldviews;
- How the 'system' works;
- We can be firms of endearment;
- How we can change the game of the financial and business world.

All by considering our own role and our personal worldviews.

We have developed a learning journey. A journey along the top scholars of Europe for a group of maximum 12 participants.

A journey that is highly systemic and deeply personal!

*Do you want to be a steward
of a sustainable society?*

A journey which will start in June and will end in October 2025. For optimal transfer to your own organization, it is recommended that two people per organization participate.

Let's show our leadership | June, 16-17th, 2025 |

In these first two days of our course, we will bring our insights together on a personal level. Dr. Susan Goldsworthy OLY, Affiliate Professor of Leadership, Communications, and Organizational Change at IMD, brings us to Chamonix. With the team of Richard Westbroek, founder and executive coach at ChamoiX and IMD Lausanne we have a trip onto the mountains to see the glacier so we can see with our own eyes the effect of climate change.

As we are failing to meet the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals, we must shift towards a focus on the Inner Development Goals stepping up as tempered radicals to inspire the spiritual and cultural transformations required.

Change the game! | September, 18-19th, 2025 |

You are a guest at Nyenrode Business University in Breukelen (nearby Amsterdam). During a two-day course prof. dr. André Nijhof will be our host.

He will create an experience in which we discover the rules of the 'business game'. Because only when we know the rules, we can create a platform for sustainable change in our sector. This 'Sustainable Market Transformation' supports the participants in developing the skills and mindset to successfully initiate and lead complex transition processes within and outside their firms.

And tear down the walls | October, 30-31th, 2025 |

The principles of the economy are reinvented. We al studied economy, but is this the economy in which we can flourish? Is this an economic paradigm which is suitable for future generations to come? Or do we have to tear down the walls? We meet Dr. Nicolas Chevrollier and dr. Tobias Froese in Berlin, where they guides us to a reinventing process.

A process of reinventing the principles of our economy. We learn about post growth organizations and will meet some of the people wo created this type of future proof companies. And we will analyse if our firms can be post growth organizations and what this will mean for our business models. And finally, we will reflect on your own personal growth as a person.

Your investment

We can offer this great opportunity for an investment of 6 days and EUR 7.500 per person excluding VAT. This includes hotel accommodation, dinner, lunch and climbing materials and excludes travel expenses.

You will also be part of a research agenda

As a PhD researcher Mark de Lat, ESG opinion leader and strategist at the PrimeGlobal member firm Eshuis Accountants and Advisors will not only be our host at this journey. Mark will also research the way in which our market changes, the way we adapt our value propositions and how internal organizations of the firms are changing because of the transtion we make at a personal level to become stewards of a sustainable society.

Do you join us?

Please send an email to Patrick (p.snijders@eshuis.com) or Mark (m.delat@eshuis.com) that you will join us and we will confirm your participation.
